

The Golden Horseshoe

1965
Volume XIII

Published by
The Senior Class
of
ORANGE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL
Orange, Virginia

Foreword

A backward glance to September 1952 will reveal some changes since Orange County High School opened its doors for the first time—the faculty, the student body, the activities, the interests, and the attitudes. The values through the years have remained intact—knowledge, high moral standards, deep friendships, and esprit de corps.

We, the Senior Class, proudly present The Golden Horseshoe of 1965—"The Thirteenth Year."

May our Alma Mater continue to instruct and inspire all who enter these portals.

Dedication

With respect and admiration we, the Class of 1965, affectionately dedicate Volume XIII of The Golden Horseshoe to Mr. Robert Henry Brill.

Throughout his years at Orange County High School Mr. Brill has shown loyalty to the school and student body, and a real interest in their welfare. He has demonstrated dedication to the teaching profession and a high regard for all forms of learning.

Orange and Blue

Orange and Blue, we stand together,
Joined to honor thee.
Loyalty, the Blue is always;
Orange, fidelity.
Oh, dear Orange, oh, dear Orange,
Hear our song to thee.
We, thy children, carry onward—
Faith and loyalty.

Administration

In the fall thirteen new teachers arrived to join nine of the original faculty of '53 and other members with varying years of service.

Our Principal

MR. ROBERT E. JARVIS
A.B., M.A.
West Virginia University

In just two short years Mr. Jarvis has endeared himself to all of us. We value the example of high ideals he sets for us and we appreciate his leadership as our principal.

Mr. E. Voorhees Stowitts, Assistant Principal and Guidance Director, confers with college bound student. In this role and similar ones Mr. Stowitts has shown wisdom and understanding in his own quiet manner. These associations with him we shall keep among our cherished memories of O. C. H. S.

Marching Band

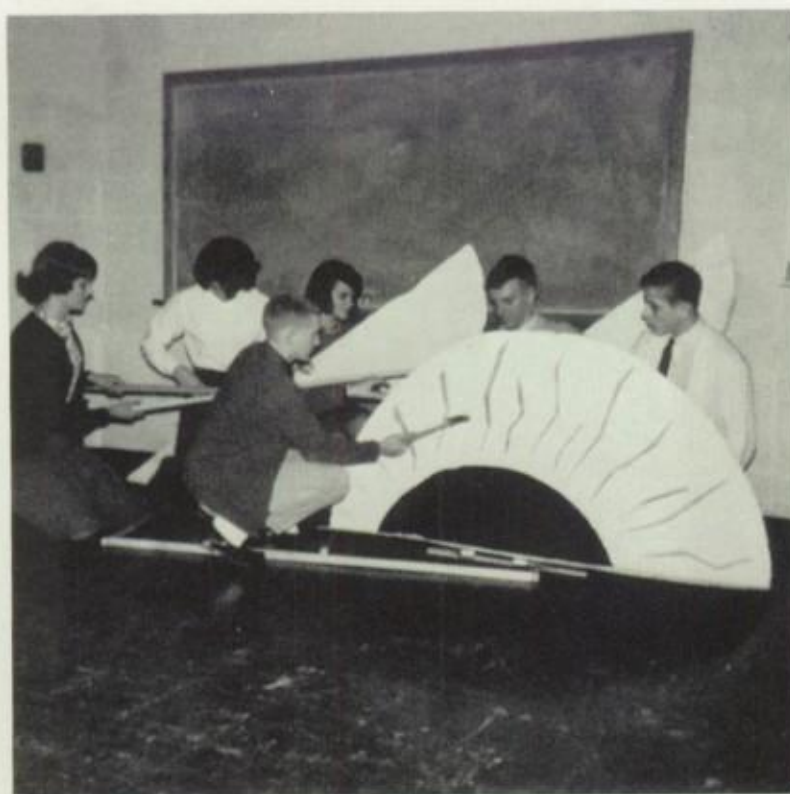

From the half-time show, "Television Highlights", the band forms a "Ten Gallon Hat" representing the popular TV program Bonanza.

Majorettes—Linda Ruffner (head majorette), Robyn Forman, Judy Carver, Patricia Yager, Ellis Robertson

Drum Major
Wayne Durrer

Joan Williams, Donna Mummau, Ray Evans, Jean Webb, Tranver Graham, and Hubert Bare are seen putting the finishing touches on the props for another half-time show.

James Brown and Carter Davis put away the field drums at the end of the football season.

Concert and Eighth Grade Bands

Director: Mr. Tyson

The Brass Section—Steve Winkler, Glenn Clark, Ray Evans, David Steigler, Hubert Bare, Gary Erb, and Ray Graves

The Woodwind Section—Laura Whitmore, Gloria Cromer, Donna Mummau, Jean Webb, Becky Sowers, Elaine Fry, Gayle Fitzhugh, Faye Lee, Theresa Graham, Eugene May, Joe Boucher, Pat O'Gorman, Joan Williams, Richard Newman, Wayne Durrer, Jimmy Strong, Barry Pendleton, and Ray Evans

At this meeting the band officers appear to have everything under control—except maybe their president, Tranver Graham.

Members of the Eighth Grade Band have one full year of study before they enter the Senior Band.

Mr. Tyson explains how the smallest instrument sometimes makes the biggest mistakes.

Chorus

Director Mr. Tyson

The chorus takes time out from their schedule to pose for a picture before rehearsing for the Christmas Program.

Judy Camper's talent as a pianist is a great asset to the success of the choir.

Danny Hager and Mike Hughes are the "mad drummers" who accompanied the chorus on the Christmas Concert.

Chorus Activities

Cataloguing music presents no problem to Peggy Carpenter, Lovell McIntosh, Louise Dempsey, and Nancy Baker.

Some girls get all the attention, unless they happen to be Judy May and Sharon Dudley filing music.

Chorus is not all singing—Bonnie Bartley discusses a music theory problem with Nancy Colvin and Bobby Hall.

Having to move the risers every time, these boys really feel the effect of concerts.

ORANGE COUNTY COURTHOUSE

ORANGE COUNTY AMERICANA

That God Forsaken Place . . .

On May 5 and 6, 1864, one of the bloodiest battles in world history was fought in Orange County, Virginia.

The Union Army was huge and well equipped, with 118,000 men. This army was to be placed between Lee and Richmond, with the hope of smashing Lee's Army of Virginia, which had dwindled to 62,000. Grant's second objective was to capture Richmond—"the prize of the Confederacy".

These armies met in "The Wilderness"—a god-forsaken, dense, tangled land that stretched on for miles. The two-day battle brought a terrific loss of life—with 15,387 Union soldiers lost. Confederate losses totaled 11,400. Hundreds of fires broke out in the second-growth forest, with many men burning to death before the Union forces withdrew.

The results of battle were that Lee fought Grant to a draw. Grant abandoned the field and marched on toward Spotsylvania Court House. Lee won a victory of sorts, by being able to hold out against a larger, better equipped army, but the strength of the Confederacy was weakened by the extreme loss of life.

The Battle of the Wilderness tested and proved the courage of both sides. The South was outnumbered. They fought with a lack of food, clothing and weapons. The union forces were in a strange, hostile land. Yet both armies fought with valor on those terrible days in 1864 in Orange County, Virginia.

Through the years . . .

Nearing the end of the line . . .

We acknowledge . . .

The businessmen and firms of Orange and surrounding areas for their financial aid.

Delmar Studios and Printing Company for printing the yearbook.

Vacaro Senior Portraits for their photography.

Mr. Duff Green of "The Orange Review" for his donation of sports pictures.

The faculty for their patience and understanding.

The student body for their co-operation and support.
